

Ugandans to the rescue

June 17, 2010

Among all political candidates running for presidency in Uganda, only has proven to be serious. He can tell it like it is and not afraid of Museveni's intimidation nor harassment. Last week Olara warned dictator museveni to prepare for the inevitable

The leader of the Uganda Peoples Congress, Mr. Olara Otunnu, has said President Museveni should concentrate on organizing his defense before the International Criminal Court other than labeling him a rebel collaborator.

Mr Otunnu, who spoke through his personal assistant Robert Kanusu said the leader of the Lord's Resistance Army Joseph Kony and his spokesman David Nyekorach Matsanga should also prepare their defense as they await trial. But the President's Press Secretary Tamale Mirundi said Mr Museveni is innocent.
