

Ugandans to the rescue

Tuesday, June 29, 2010

Posted by Musa

After 25 years in power with an $11b wealth and currently ranking the sixth richest among world leaders, Uganda's dictator Museveni still can not modernize his country's infrastructure. Take for example Schools, in this day and age can you believe that there so many parts in Uganda without adequate education facilities? Well if you doubt it you don't have to look any further than below this paragraph. He the dictator can afford to buy military jets from Russia heavy weaponry all over the world at an exorbitant price, but can't afford to build schools, hospitals or even repair the roads!!

Students in class and the teacher at work: Our Uganda today under the Museveni rule