

Ugandans to the rescue

18 September 2010

Posted by Musa

Politics, bush politics at its best.

Undisputable reports say that General Kale Kaihura, the IGP brokered a high level very sensitive meeting between Museveni and Kizza Besigye + Mugisha Muntu! This took place about 2 months ago in Karamoja at Morulinga presidential palace in the wilderness of Karamoja, some miles after Kongole.

On the fateful day, Kaihura made arrangement for a helicopter to pick the FDC leaders from Soroti to the meeting venue. On arrival, Museveni welcome his bushwar comrades and took them to task as to why they had teamed up with UPC that they fought and worse still with Okara Otuunu who is talking vehemently about human rights abuse in Uganda, the establishment of truth telling commission that may lead to peace. He emphasized to them that OO is the most dangerous person as far as the NRA regime is concerned. Where as Mugisha Muntu is reported to have said nothing at the meeting, Kizza Besigye in his usual shift style told M7, that as for him, he was only treating sick people and the charge will not affect him. Museveni cut him short and reminded him of several missions that KB took that saw many people being killed and the same incidence is on record at the Hague!

After quite sometime of argument, the two agreed on certain areas of cooperation, including ensuring that UPC does not take over government. M& handed over some envelopes/ bags of cash to the two and promised to refill their pass as soon as possible. The two bush war fighters were taken back to Soroti to continue with their campaigns to capture power come 2011.

Questions that may follow are: Are FDC people serious about regime change in 2011?C in IPC