

Ugandans to the rescue

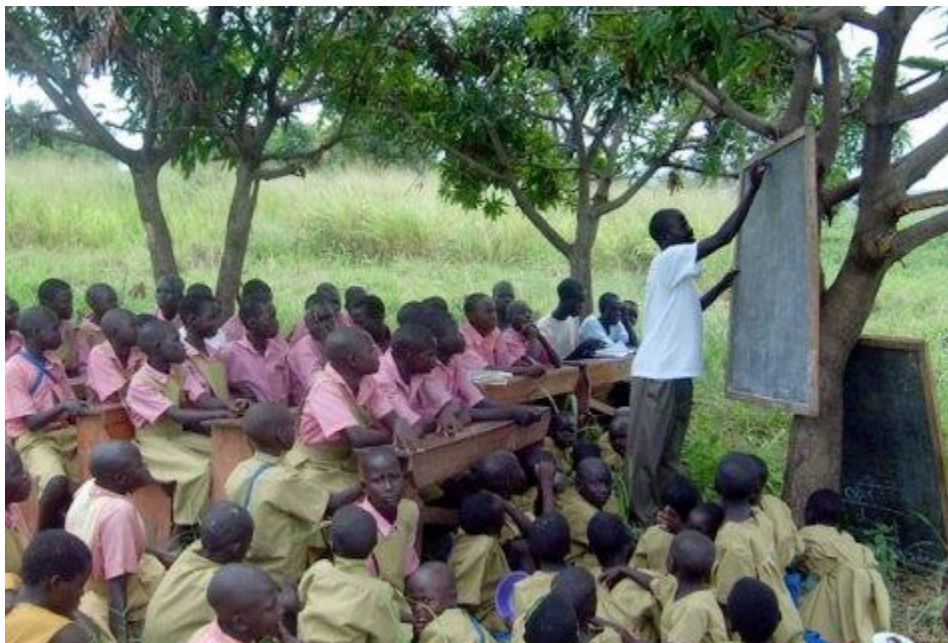

June 30, 2010

Posted by Musa

Uganda parliament member during active session. His paid by the tax payer just to do that! Ever wonder why Dictator M7 gotten away with it for so long?

Help is on the way

Ugandans to the rescue

June 30, 2010

Dictator M7's net worth is confirmed to be over $11B, ranking him the 6th world richest among leaders. This is the modern education infrastructure he has built in 25 years of his dictatorship rule. His really proud of his rule.

This Dictator never appreciates advice from the civilized world. His dressed like a true African mob leader, to welcome an American special envoy who had come to caution him against utilizing too much power against Ugandans during the coming general elections. M7's dress code was an act of disrespect to the U.S

Help is on the way

Ugandans to the rescue

June 30, 2010

Having failed to modernize schools, hospitals, running water systems, electricity or roads, dictator Museveni has embarked on creating countless brutal security organs to terrorize innocent Ugandans. The picture shows a few members of what is now known as the Kiboko squad. They simply beat you up with those big sticks you see them holding in their hands, ready to strike.

This picture is actually from a real crime scene depicting some UPDF soldiers assaulting this innocent female victim. It is believed she was raped and then shaved. Currently we don't know what really provoked the nature of this crime since the president of Uganda prohibited any one in the country to talk or write about the incident, this includes the victim herself.