

Ugandans to the Rescue

February 10, 2010

By Mansa Musa

Why Ugandans should never trust Museven Again: This is a tyrant who dressed in a sheep skin and walked in on our farm to graze like all tamed animals on the farm. Little did we know that it was a wolf disguised as one the sheep. Museven said all the right word as he organized the Bush war in 1980 and Ugandans especially the Baganda believed him, we gave him our hearts and souls, our children and all relatives to liberate us. Museven echoed the same rhetoric in 1986 upon coming to power and the whole world embraced and blessed him. Gradually the people of Uganda began experiencing wrath of the dictator four years later and soon after those nations in the great lakes also began taking noticing "what the wolf Museven is" when he invaded Rwanda in 1990/1991. From that time on everybody on the block started fearing Museven the war monger. It's up to us as Ugandans to rid the community of this thug. Below are some of the lies he told and promised to get him to power.

<http://allafrica.com/stories/201001281008.html>